

Workshops that Work©

Learn the techniques and trade secrets of training to encourage greater impact, longer retention and increased creativity. Learn how to make your training more inclusive and not, as many people do, use training techniques based solely on how the trainer (that would be you) learns.

A good trainer...	A great trainer... knows what their learning style is	avoids only training to meet his or her own style has a thorough grounding in adult education, popular education, brain-based and experiential learning	knows how to put it all into action by developing and delivering curriculum that is interesting and creative
creates an enjoyable learning atmosphere	does that and ensures the learning sticks through using a capacity building model

RPS works with you to actively demonstrate and provide lots of reflection time for increasing your capacity to ignite dialogue, discussion and dynamic exchange. Get going, move from good to great.

*"Thanks so very much, Lee-Anne. I thoroughly enjoyed your session. I learned a number of valuable techniques that I will use. The document you sent is excellent too. Again, thank you and I hope we meet again in the future. You are a consummate trainer!" *

~ Jo Ellen Logan, Working Solutions

Direct benefits to participants:

- Experience hands on learning that leads to practical application in the work place right away
- Gain confidence in your training skills
- Your training will be more fun, have more impact and be more accessible to a wider audience
- Learn and laugh
- Receive a customized follow-up resource guide

RPS is where great minds come to play.